

AT&T Bargaining Bulletin #23

June 11, 2024

Over the past two weeks, your bargaining committee has met with the company in subcommittee and formal sessions to work on package proposals. Things are fluid as we attempt to move a package proposal that improves the members' lives—the details of the package change with each pass as we work to move in a positive direction.

The company has failed to meet its commitment to your bargaining team. The package the company has presented falls short of the membership's expectations. We continue to work on the items members put forth in the survey.

Please step up the mobilization and continue to send a strong message to the company that you are engaged and invested in the outcome of bargaining. Thank you for your support!
